

Introduction to IETF

Xiaomin Fu
University of Goettingen, Germany
fu@cs.uni-goettingen.de

The Internet Engineering Task Force (IETF) is the Internet standardization body, and its open decentralized structure derives from the Internet's early history. The presentation gives an introduction of the Internet standardization process and a summary of German IETF contributions, including actively involved fields and key contributors.